Louise Mott – Singing Teacher

Louise Mott is an experienced singing teacher and professional opera singer with over thirty years of performing experience. She trained in Singing and Vocal Teaching at the Guildhall School of Music & Drama, studied Opera at the Royal College of Music, and completed her training at the National Opera Studio. As a classical performer, she has worked with all the major opera companies in the UK and appeared in leading concert halls and theatres nationwide, as well as touring throughout Europe and further afield.

Since 2005, Louise has taught singing privately and in schools across Devon and Cornwall, currently working with students at Braunton Academy, Pilton College, Shebbear College and Bideford College, where she has taught since 2017. She also leads workshops and children's chorus coaching for Diva Opera, preparing young singers for productions including Carmen and Così fan tutte, and regularly delivers Hansel and Gretel workshops with Diva Opera in London schools, performing the role of the Witch.

Louise teaches a wide range of styles—from classical and opera to musical theatre, rock and pop—and aims to make lessons enjoyable, confidence-building and tailored to each student's goals. She also prepares students for singing exams in all styles across all major exam boards. Many of her former students have progressed to top conservatoires and performing arts institutions throughout the UK.
