

Dear Students –

Welcome to AS Psychology! Psychology is made up of a number of key approaches or paradigms. These different approaches form the basis of our studies and how we go on to explain different psychological phenomena.

Please sign up to the online provider Tutor2U.net (<https://www.tutor2u.net/register?return>). This is free and will be a very useful resource over the next two years.

Once signed up you will need to enrol on the free course “Transition to A level psychology” using the QR code below (or <https://tinyurl.com/4a5vb7z3>)

Once enrolled you will need to complete the following components in advance of September.

1. Transition to A level Psychology – 1 minute
 2. What is Psychology? – 13 minutes
 3. The Origin of Psychology – 12 minutes
 4. Behaviourist Approach and Classical Conditioning – 15 minutes
 5. Behaviourist Approach and Operant Conditioning – 18 minutes
- (Video 12 shows the “Extension Tasks” - 2 minutes. If you want to do some further research into the course please complete the tasks shown in this video).*

Attached is a copy of the worksheets referred to in the video. These should be completed in line with the instructions on the course. All work should be handed in and will be checked on the first day of class for a completion grade.

We will continue this course in the first two weeks of the term where the following videos will be completed:

6. Connection Wall Task – 2 minutes
7. Psychodynamic Approach – 11 minutes
8. Psychodynamic Approach and Psychosexual Stages – 15 minutes
9. Biological Approach – 13 minutes
10. Evaluating the Biological Approach – 6 minutes
11. Mathematical Component – 7 minutes

If you have any questions that arise over the summer, please email me. See you in September!
